The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

. . CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by securing the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Interesting Letter.

A dispatch from Berlin to the New York World says that the Orient Correspondenz has just made public the text of a letter written by Publius Lentulus, an officer of Pontius Pilate's court, to the Roman Emperor, which was recently discovered in the library of the Lazarist Fathers in Rome.

If this letter proves authentic it may be considered the most important historical document ever discovered regarding the personality of Jesus. It purports to have been written just as Christ was begining his preaching through Judea. It reads:

"I have learned, O Caesar, that you desired some information regarding this virtuous man called Jesus, the Christ, whom the people consider a prophet and his disciples regard as the Son of God, Creator of heaven and earth.

"It is a fact that every day one hears wonderful things told of him. To be brief, he makes the dead rise and he heals the sick.

"He is a man of medium size, whose appearance indicates both great sweetness and such an amount of dignity that one feels in looking at him that he must love him, and at the same time fear him.

"His hair, down to his ears, is of the color of ripe walnuts and hangs down on his shoulders as a light blond and clear mass; it is parted in the middle, according to the fashion of the Nazarenes. His beard, of the same color as his hair, is curly, and although not very long, is parted in the middle like his hair.

"His eyes are rather severe and shine like the sun; it is impossible for any one to look him long in the face.

"When he scolds he inspires fear, but very soon he himself begins to shed tears. Even in his most severe moods he is affable and benevolent. It is said that no one has ever seen him laugh, and that he sheds tears very often.

"Every one finds that his conversation is agreeable and attractive. He is not seen very often in public, and when he appears he carries himself modestly.

"His manners are very distinguished; he is even beautiful. It is perhaps because his mother is the best looking woman ever seen in these parts.

"If you wish to see him, O Caesar, as you wrote me once, let me know and I shall send him to you.

"Although he has never pursued any studies, he is well up in every branch of knowledge.

"He goes around barefooted and without head cover.

"Many people make fun of him when they see him coming, but as soon as they are in his presence they tremble and admire him.

"The Hebrews say that they have never seen a man like him, nor heard teachings like those he imparts.

"Many believe that he is a god and others assert that he is thine enemy. O Caesar.

"These naughty Jews give me much trouble. They say he has never given trouble to anybody, but that, on the contrary, he tries to make every one happy."

Labor Unions and Trade Schools.

A criticism of the attitude of labor unions toward industrial schools was embodied in the report yesterday of the committee on industrial education to the National Association of Manufacturers in New York. The report declared that labor unions have made efforts to hinder the perpetuation of trade schools.

"Their efforts," said the report, "are nothing short of a crime against all those young men who desire to learn a trade, and are the cause, in a considerable measure, for the lack of skilled labor in the United States."

The tariff and reciprocity committee reported that under present conditions many manufacturers are greatly handicapped in the German market. The committee asked that strenuous efforts be made by the United States government to reach immediately a fair basis of trade with the German Empire. Another need was stated to be some reciprocal arrangement for trade with Canada.

The secretary's preliminary report was adopted. It stated that "an anti-injunction bill of almost any kind was desired by the labor lobby" at Washington during the present session of Congress.

"Commissioner Garfield, of the bureau of corporations," it continued, "who had procured the introduction of a so-called moderate anti-injunction bill in the previous Congress, this time induced the innocent Congressman Gilbert, of Indiana, to introduce the so-called moderate Gilbert anti-injunction bill. This provided that notice should be given to the adverse parties before a writ of injunction could issue in any labor dispute."

The adherents of labor, said the report, were divided over this bill, Samuel Gompers being among its opponents.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, chronic kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Lydia E. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhausive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing-down pains, scalding or burning sensations or deposits in the urine, unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back, running through the groin, she may infer that her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and congestion of the female organs. My back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing-down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all the bad symptoms have disappeared.

I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it.

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 636 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it; and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from kidney trouble, or any form of female weakness, are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. Out of the great volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than likely she has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Fear War With Turkey.

There is considerable excitement in Transcaucasia owing to the possibility of a war with Turkey in the summer.

Turkey seems to be mobilizing troops near the frontier, explaining that they are simply engaged in maneuvers. Nevertheless, the Viceroy of Transcaucasia seems to be preparing for possible eventualities. General Malama, the chief of staff, and the artillery and commissary officers have made an extensive inspection tour of the frontier, and the fortifications of Kars, the strongest fortress on the border, are being strengthened.

Many prominent families of Tiflis, dreading the outlook, are moving north.

No admission is obtainable in St. Petersburg that Russia is indulging in warlike preparations in Transcaucasia, but it is possible that the military activity reported in the dispatch from Tiflis is an echo of a demonstration designed to support Great Britain in her dispute with Turkey regarding the boundary of the Sinai peninsula.

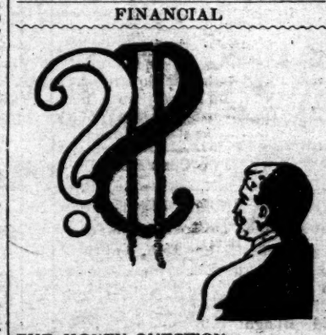
FINANCIAL



THE MONEY QUESTION IS MANY SIDED.

On of the phrases is "How to avoid the embarrassing situation of being short of ready cash, though you may have money at home." If you have a check book and a banking account you are never caught in such a situation. Why not carry a checking account with this Corporation? Your money is safer in bank than anywhere else. A bank account teaches, helps and encourages you to save. Paying bills by check is safer, as the check becomes a receipt for the debt it pays. A check book is more convenient to carry than a wallet filled with legal tender. If your check book is lost the Bank will give you another; when you lose your wallet the story is different. To have a bank account and pay by check gives you better standing among business men and strengthens one's credit. Study this question—look at it as long as you will; the opening of a Bank account is desirable and advantageous, and we tender you our services and facilities. CALL TO SEE US.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 16, 1906.

WITH a final charge of bad faith against the President and a solemn declaration that he had never sought nor authorized anyone to seek for him "any conference with Theodore Roosevelt," Senator Tillman, on behalf of the democrats of the Senate, yesterday afternoon closed for the present the controversy over the President's discreditable conduct in the rate bill negotiations. The final statement of the South Carolina Senator had been carefully prepared in advance and was read to the Senate slowly and dispassionately, in the presence of packed galleries and a crowded floor. It was expected there would be a renewal of the exciting debates of the past few days as a result of the letter of the President to Senator Allison and of Attorney General Moody to the President published yesterday. But the Senate was weary of the controversy and the democrats were satisfied to let the case rest with the declaration of Mr. Tillman reiterating the charge of bad faith against the President and absolutely denying the truth of the President's statement that the suggestion of an aliance between democratic Senators and the administration came from the former. This denial was supported by the testimony of ex-Senator Chandler, an officer of the administration, and by a strong chain of circumstancial evidence, familiar to all who have followed the rate bill contest. The assertion rested on the word of the President alone. The evidence in the case was clear and ample. It was useless to pursue the controversy further. "I am willing to leave the whole question to the truthful and honorable men of the country," Senator Tillman said in conclusion.

There are only two points in the President's letter which I deem worthy of notice. His attempted explanation is ingenious but not ingenuous. He calls in question the integrity of purpose and utterance of Mr. Chandler by declaring: "He was asked to see ex-Senator Chandler as representing Mr. Tillman, who was in charge of the bill. He stated to me the views of Mr. Tillman with seeming authority." Mr. Chandler has declared most positively in a written statement that the President sent for him for the purpose of getting into communication with Senator Bailey and myself, and he has produced the letter of Mr. Loeb. I now declare most emphatically that to no human being have I ever given authority or even expressed a wish to have any conference with Theodore Roosevelt in regard to the bill now under consideration. On the contrary. I have expressed the opinion in more than one published interview that he had nothing to do with it, and that it was the business of the Senate, and while I did, at his request, enter into negotiations with the Attorney General, it is well known to every Senator on this floor what my attitude and feelings have been, and it is most remarkable, while the President sent for democrat after democrat to confer with him about this measure, that he should undertake under the circumstances to assert that I sent an agent to him to begin negotiations. The statement is absurd on its face.

As though to emphasize the absurdity of such an action on his own part, the South Carolina Senator at this juncture halted in his prepared address. "This is Tillman speaking now," he exclaimed, and a wave of laughter went over the floor and galleries as his point was made clear. "The charge I now make," he added, "is that the President is guilty of bad faith."

The other point to which I shall refer is the cavalier way in which Mr. Moody discusses the idea of the President not being bound. While contradicting in no instance, however slight, my statement of what occurred the Attorney General seems to think that the code of honor among gentlemen is not binding upon the Executive and his Cabinet. The President asked him to see Mr. Bailey and myself. We met by appointment made by Senator Chandler and talked over the vital question. He wrote and sent to Mr. Bailey his understanding of our views and when we met subsequently we reached absolute agreement, both as to the form and the substance of a proposed amendment to which he said the President would assent and help get votes for. Of course, the President was not bound to change, but he was bound under such circumstances to give notice, and this was not done. Even the Attorney General himself was not notified. The charge I made and still make is that the President is guilty of bad faith and that the rate bill, which will be, when enacted into law, a much better and stronger measure than we had hoped for, has been emasculated of one of its most valuable and essential features by the President's action. I am ready to leave the whole question to the thoughtful and honorable men the country.

THE ecclesiastical court which tried Dr. Crapsey, of Rochester, N. Y., has very properly found that a man who does not believe in the virgin birth or the bodily resurrection of our Lord is incapable of reciting the Apostles' Creed with the necessary degree of sincerity, and is out of place as a clergyman in a church which maintains that creed as one of its standards. The Episcopal Church tolerates considerable latitude, but feels that it must draw the line somewhere.

MR. ROOSEVELT before he was President spoke of President McKinley as a "chocolate back," Senator Bailey in the Senate on Saturday said President Roosevelt was "a man of clay and very common clay at that." And the Senator is not the only man to find out that the clay man cannot be "tied to."

THE investigation of the management of the government Hospital for the Insane, near Washington, shows a sad state of affairs existing there. The patients were cruelly treated, the food was poor and the attendants lacking in number, capability and consideration.

COL. SAPP has been deposed from the chairmanship of the Kansas democratic State committee, because in a recent speech he called the President "a liar." In view of existing conditions the Kansas democrats might have suspended judgment, till all the returns were in.

THE defeat of Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, will cause the President no loss of sleep. The feeling between the two men was bitter and the Senator was quite free in expressing his opinion of the President, which was not at all exalted.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Senator Tillman this afternoon received and made public a letter from ex-Senator Chandler, in reply to the President's charge that Chandler had uttered a "delibrate and unqualified falsehood" in regard to the recent conferences at the White House. Among other things Mr. Chandler says: "As the telephonic denial by President Roosevelt sent to the Senate through Senator Lodge, remains in the Congressional Record of May 12th, it seems to me that I should take some notice of it, which I do by now reaffirming the essential truth of the statement I made to you and which you repeated in the Senate. Much as I regret that the hasty action of Senator Lodge and the President has forced an issue between the President and myself, the extreme language he used makes such issue unavoidable and I cannot shrink from or evade it although I cannot use toward the chief executive of the action language like his own. Upon our respective statement, I submit the controversy with confidence to the judgment of those who know me. For those who do not know me, there is fortunately circumstantial evidence of a high order which shows that the President could not have omitted to make in substance the statement which he denies. Nor could he have then made the whole statement which he now substitutes. His impulsiveness has led him into serious error upon a point of no importance in itself, but only as affecting his stack upon me." Mr. Chandler then goes into an exhaustive history of his interview with the President. Shortly after the receipt of the letter Senator Tillman sent it to the desk and had it read by the clerk of the Senate.

At the session today of the annual convention of the Association of American Physicians, the following officers were elected: President, Francis P. Kinnicutt, of New York; vice president, James Tyson, of Philadelphia; secretary, Henry Hun, of Albany, N. Y., recorder, Solomon Solis Cohen, of Philadelphia; treasurer, J. P. Crozier Griffith, of Philadelphia; and councillor, L. F. Barker, of Baltimore. There were elected to active membership W. M. L. Coplin, of Philadelphia; S. W. Lambeth, of New York; and G. H. Weaver, of Chicago; and to associate membership, A. A. Eshner, of Philadelphia; R. G. Freeman, of New York; I. P. Lyon, of Buffalo; M. J. Rosenau, of Washington; John S. Billings, jr., of New York; Edward R. Baldwinn, of Saranac, N. Y.; and Herbert C. Moffitt, of San Francisco.

Charles S. Fowler, chief examiner of the New York Civil Service Commission, presided at today's session of the conference of civil service officials in this city. The subject under consideration was the classification of the service, papers being read by George R. Wales, John T. Doyle, H. C. Coles and William J. Quinn, all of the United States Civil Service Commission.

In a dispatch to the War Department from San Francisco, Gen. Greely says that he has notified the citizens' committee and the Red Cross that he expects to withdraw the army from the city not later than June 1. The transfer to the civil authorities and the Red Cross will be gradual and under conditions preventing embarrassment.

There is one foreigner in China, according to Consul George E. Anderson, formerly of Amoy, but now assigned to a South American post who may reasonably be said to have mastered the Chinese language. Owing to the fact that Chinese reared in districts not more than twenty-five miles from one another cannot understand and have no common language, the consul says that English is frequently resorted to and is the coming commercial language of China. He quotes a prominent Chinese imperial maritime customs official as saying that in ten years the principal business in China will be transacted in the English language, and that in twenty years the Chinese business man who can not speak English will be greatly handicapped. This is the case, he says, in the coast ports at the present time. Americans entering the Chinese markets today he advises to employ interpreters and to make no attempt to learn the hundreds of dialects, built up on the ideograph Chinese language. "So long as the governor of every province in China requires an interpreter to deal with his own people, the people he governs, it is safe to say that foreign business men cannot expect to be free from the necessity of similar service," says Mr. Anderson. No one is sure in sending an official dispatch or a private communication in Chinese whether it will be taken in the sense intended, so much does the ideagraph language vary, he adds.

The oil in the burning tank and in the adjoining tanks is being drawn off and the fire will be confined to the wrecked tank. No person was injured.

The Rickmers is a five masted square rigged vessel and is the largest sailing vessel in the world.

Crazed by drink and by disappointment in a love affair James H. Clark, a telegraph operator at the little town of Chamblee, a dozen miles north of Atlanta, begin late Monday afternoon a rampage of crime. Cordelia Botkin, who sent poisoned candy to Mrs. John P. Dunning which caused her death, was sent to jail at San Quentin Cal., yesterday to begin her sentence of life imprisonment. The commitment was signed yesterday at the request of Mrs. Botkin herself. This ends a legal battle which has been waged for eight years, involving two trials. Not only was Mrs. Dunning killed, but her sister as well succumbed to the poisoned sweets sent to their home in Delaware.

The old church at Jamestown will be restored by the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities and when completed will be dedicated by Bishop Randolph and taken under the care of the diocese and, with the cooperation of the association, will minister to its needs and open its doors to sister churches who may from time to time desire to worship there. She left an oil lamp burning and about 11 o'clock it exploded, casting flaming fluid over her bed. Her screams aroused the entire household, but by that time she had been cut off from rescue. The house was burned over her body and yesterday morning a few charred remains were found.

CONGRESSIONAL.

With the exception of the Culbuson anti-pass amendment, the Senate yesterday concluded its consideration of the railroad rate bill as in committee of the whole, and as soon as that provision shall be disposed of will take it up in the Senate. The general expectation is that the pass question will be disposed of today and the general hope is that the bill may be passed before the close of today's session. Mr. Tillman submitted a further statement relative to the President's and the Attorney General's efforts to secure a working combination between the democrats and the minority republicans on the rate bill, and Mr. Allison also presented the letters of the President and the Attorney General on that subject in order that they might be printed in the Record.

The witnesses stated that several patients were bathed in the same tub of water.

Methodist Revision.

The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at Birmingham, Ala., yesterday decided to elect three new bishops, and set Thursday as the time for the selection of these dignitaries and such other officers as are usually chosen by the general conference.

Protests against the action of the conference Monday in voting to appoint a committee to draw up a new statement of faith were heard immediately upon the opening of the session. W. E. Williams, of Northwest Texas, objected to the action of the conference, and Charles M. Armstrong, of Baltimore, presented a written protest. In the Armstrong protest it is asserted that members of the conference did not understand the purport of the motion and that the paper adopted "authorizes the committee to draw up any statement of faith whatsoever and to frame, without limitation, an expression of doctrinal system which they may deem called for in our day."

The committee of episcopacy reported in the matter of a complaint of Rev. Cole D. Mann, of South Carolina, concerning a decision made by Bishop Wilson, saying that the committee had no jurisdiction and that the complainant had come before the wrong tribunal. The same committee recommended nonconcurrence on the petition for a bishop in the foreign field and also nonconcurrence in a petition seeking the division of territory into episcopal districts. Noncurrence was reported on memorials to increase the lay representation in annual conference. A nonconcurrence report was made on the request looking to the removal of the headquarters of the church extension board from Louisville, Ky., to Oklahoma City, and not a concurrence report, as stated Monday.

The Two Cent Rate.

The Churchman 2 cent-rate bill, which passed the Virginia Legislature, and was signed by the Governor, is scheduled to go in effect June 15th, but there is a strong likelihood that the measure will not be effective then. Attorneys for the railroads claim that it is unconstitutional and will fight it to the end. The Corporation Commission will hear the arguments of the attorneys. If the commission sustains the legislature in reducing the rate, then the matter will be taken to the Supreme Court. Important business men's associations of the State have been working hard to have the Churchman bill become a law in reality. The proposed decrease in the railroad rates; while a law, is yet far away. There is no telling just when it will become effective. The Churchman bill says that the railroads shall issue 500 mile books for $10, or a rate of 2 cents per mile for all 500 mile books.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. Episcopal Council.

One Hundred and Eleventh Annual Session.

FIRST DAY—MORNING SESSION

The 111th Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia began its sessions in St. Paul's Church with divine service at 10 o'clock this morning. The following clergy in addition to Bishop Gibson occupied seats in the chancel: The Revs. Everard Meade, Secretary of the Council, Archdeacons Moncure and Tyler, E. L. Goodwin, J. J. Gravatt, Josiah R. Ellis, P. P. Phillips, W. J. Morton, Edgar Carpenter and the appointed preacher for the opening service of the Council, the Rev. Robt. W. Forsythe of St. Paul's Church, Richmond. He took as his text St. John 1.49, "Nathaniel answered and said unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, Thou art the King of Israel," and delivered an able and interesting ser non. The Holy Communion was administered by Bishop Gibson and the Rev. P. P. Phillips.

After a short interval the business session of the council was duly opened at 12:15 o'clock with Bishop Gibson in the chair. The secretary of the council, the Rev. Everard Meade, who is also rector of Pohick Church, next presented a gavel to the council made of old timber from the roof of Pohick Church where Washington, George Mason of Gunston and George Wm. Fairfax of Belvior worshipped and of which they were vestrymen. The gavel is a present from the rector and vestry of the old church. It was agreed on motion of Rev. Robt. Goodwin that the parochial reports for this year be published according to the plan followed in the Journal of 1905, and that the form and style of the additional statistical report be left to the judgment of the bishop and secretary of the diocese.

A new parish to be be known as Newton parish was referred to the committee on new parishes.

On motion of Prof. Massie, of the Seminary, a cordial invitation was extended to a committee now present from the diocese Southern Virginia to present an important work in which both dioceses are deeply interested. This committee consisting of Revs. Messrs. Milton and Owens then ably presented the case of an Episcopal rector to be supported for ministrations to Episcopal students at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg by the joint action of both dioceses. Today's Telegraphic News

A Severe Denunciation.

Washington, May 16.—Senator Bailey this afternoon sent to the the desk the publication in a western newspaper declaring that he was secretly opposed to railroad rate legislation, and it was read.

He declared that the dispatch was sent out by a correspondent close to the White House. He denounced the statement as an unqualified, malicious and deliberate lie. He denounced the correspondent in the same terms and the man who gave him the information as an unqualified, malicious and deliberate liar, "no matter how high his station or what office he holds." Mr. Bailey then resumed his seat.

Mr. Tillman jumped to the floor. He wanted the entire story read, Mr. Bailey having only called attention to that portion relating to himself. This was done. During its reading Mr. Tillman's face was a study. The predominant characteristic was the blood red color, for the news story which the clerk read in distinct tones held the South Carolinian up to scorn and ridicule, as a Senator who by stealth sought indirectly an interview with the President, who, several years ago, withdrew from Mr. Tillman a dinner invitation.

The story further charged Bailey with being the real stumbling block in the way of the presidential negotiations on the rate bill, of having been under suspicion by Mr. Tillman and other democratic senators and of having tried to betray the advocates of the railway bill, all of which the story said was susceptible of documentary proof.

[The story referred to was written by Raymond Patterson, Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune.]

Senator Tillman continuing, said in the newspaper article he had counted eight distinct falsehoods concerning himself, one to which he especially desired to call attention. That was that he had ever lost faith in the integrity, honestly and fair dealing of Mr. Bailey. He denied this emphatically, and said that he had never had the slightest suspicion of the Texas Senator. Mr. Tillman characterized the correspondent as a muck raker.

"What house the handle goes into or whose hands hold the handle I don't care to discuss," he exclaimed. He said that the campaign of falsehoods "by the hirelings of the republican machine is only indicative of the desperate straits some people have brought themselves into."

Mr. Tillman then submitted the Chandler statement, for the purpose, as he said, of enabling the future historian to tell "who did the lying."

At the conclusion of the reading of the Chandler letter, Senator Bailey again took the floor, and announced that a similar statement to that which he had denounced (in the Chicago Tribune), he discovered had been published in the New York Tribune this morning. He wanted to say that among all the newspaper correspondents, most of whom were as honorable as the Senators on the floor, the two chief "cuckoos," were the correspondents of these two papers. "Therefore," he said, "the suspicion is roused that the story proceeded from the White House. I hope for the honor of my country that it did not proceed from the President himself." He went on to say that the President should take steps to prevent Senators from being slandered by his subordinates. "The miserable wretch," he continued, "who communicated this information to these papers in an effort to slander me, no matter how high his office, shall lose his place, even if he were inspired by his chief."

The Lawson Divorce Case.

New York May 16.— The sensational Lawson divorce case, which has been up in a Brooklyn court for a week or more, ended this morning when the jury reported a disagreement. The jury was out all night. William M. Lawson, a young millionaire, sued his pretty wife for divorce, alleging adultery and naming three corespondents. One of the corespondents, a youth named Carmichael, appeared as a witness for the husband, and testified that he had been intimate with Mrs. Lawson, whom he met during a street flirtation. He testified that he had been employed in Mrs. Lawson's home household, so that she would have him near her. The case also developed sensational scenes in various boarding houses where Mrs. Lawson lived. The wife's defense was that she was a victim of conspiracy and evidence was produced to show that Carmichael had partaken of the bounty of Mr. Lawson in that he had been clothed and received money from the millionaire. Mrs. Lawson's lawyer in summing up hinted that grand jury proceedings would follow to bring to light forgery, bribery, and conspiracy which he claimed entered into the case.

Discussing Reply to Address.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—The discussion of the reply to the address from the throne which had proposed additions to the reply as originally drafted continued in the Douma today. Stoch in defending the reply from the criticisms of members on the right of the chamber in a defiant address was liberally applauded. Deputies Kusmind and Karavaeff likewise aroused the deputies to the point of wild cheering by their eloquent protests against the death penalty. It was shown that 600 persons have been executed in Russia since last December. The Douma continues resolute and apparently is determined to make its position known in the reply. The party on the right is weak. It is rumored that the Czar intends granting partial amnesty to prisoners guilty of press offences.

Admitted that He Owned Stock.

Philadelphia, May 16.—Closely following the startling disclosure made at the first session of the Interstate Commerce Commission which is looking into the alleged discrimination in the distributing of coal cars, by the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroads, came this morning the still more sensational admission that a railroad official had accepted presents from mining companies. George W. Clarke, car distributor for the Pennsylvania Railroad, again took the witness stand and admitted that he owned stock in the Preston Coal Company, and the Jamison Coal Mining Company. In reply to a question if he had not received money from other companies, witness acknowledged that he received a present occasionally.

The twenty six collieries of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company resumed today, making the resumption of mining general in the anthracite field for the first time since last March 31st.

Fire on Steamship Pier.

New York, May 16.—Fire in a tool house at the entrance of pier 2, of the Hamburg-American piers in Hoboken, was got under control early this morning, after some quick work. At one time it threatened to be serious. The steamships Blucher and Bulgaria were at the pier and their crews went to the pumps, but did not have to use them.

Residences Sacked by Strikers.

Fired Upon Non-Union Men.

Albany, N. Y., May 16.—The brickmakers' strike which involves nearly all the yards between Albany and Kingston reached a crisis this morning when 250 Italian union men opened fire upon 500 negro non-union workmen in the yards of Sutton and Sudderlein, near the river in Coeymans. A savage race war is threatened and the local battalion of the National Guards has been ordered to hold itself in readiness to be called out. The trouble began early in the day, when the strikers, unable to dissuade the negroes from going to work, took a position commanding the yards on the neighboring bluff and opened fire. Owing to the distance the fusillade had little effect. The few non-union men who were armed returned the fire and all sought safety in a stockade used for piling brick; where they are now awaiting rescue. The latest reports says only one man was injured. He is Fred R. Southam, a negro, who was shot in the side. Sheriff Pitts, accompanied by Major Davis, of the National Guard, has gone to the scene of the riot. The Coeymans authorities are unable to quell the strikers and have asked for aid.

Albany N. Y., May 16.—At one o'clock this afternoon Sheriff Pitts asked for militia. The Tenth Battalion which is the second battalion of the Tenth regiment was immediately ordered out for strike duty. Sheriff Pitts reports that the Italian strikers are in complete control of the situation. From their commanding position on the heights armed with revolvers and rifles, they will permit no one to enter or leave the brick yards where the 500 negroes are huddled in a state of panic.

Mrs. Davis Better.

New York, May 16.—Mrs Jefferson Davis, widow of the President of the Confederacy, who has been ill for several days with grippe at the Hotel Gerard, was reported this morning as much better and her recovery is now looked for.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 16.—After the strong tone and irregular advances at the opening business on the stock exchange became of a waiting character, with the price movements almost wholly reflecting the constant shifting of the professional traders. The speculative element, both on the floor and outside of the exchange, seemed to have lost its bearings and to have no definite feeling on either the bull or the bear side. Commission house business was small.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

A dispatch from Indianapolis Ind., says that the United Mineworkers today finally and flatly turned down and all arbitration offers from bituminous operators who have not already signed the 1903 scale.

In the Bow street police court in London today, Simon Reece, Silas Brooks and Joe Levy, alias Bevan, who are charged with the theft of jewelry at Philadelphia, were remanded, pending the arrival of extradition papers.

Storms in Germany.

Terrific thunderstorms were reported yesterday from several parts of western and southern Germany. A hailstorm did a great deal of damage to the vineyards and the crops in the fields in lower Franconia.

Several persons were killed by lightning, and numerous farmhouses were burned and the animals killed in the neighborhood of Treves, which also suffered severely from a hailstorm.

In parts of the Moselle wine district the year's crop has been destroyed.

The field crops were greatly damaged in the Saar Valley through the flooding caused by the heavy storms, which continue. In the Lower Rhine districts, however, the protracted drouth continues to prevail. In most parts of northern Germany the meadows are drying through lack of rain and the cattle are suffering. The railroads are taking extra precautions to prevent forest fires.

Wedding.

Miss Rebekah Harvey Barrett, of this city, and Mr. Whitman Rathborne Smith, of Linko, Ont., were married at 8 o'clock last night at St. Paul's Church, Rev. P. P. Phillips, the rector officiated. Mr. James Macdonald, of Ottawa, was best man, and Miss Lila Barrett, a sister of the bride, maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Bessie Herbert, of Baltimore; Miss Priscilla Dodson, of Greensboro, N C; Miss Anne Caldwell, of Lewisburg, W. Va.; Miss Marian Waller, of Wide Water, Va.; Miss Kitty Barrett, a sister of the bride, and Miss Lucy Douglas, of this city. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Alfred Pike, of Southport, England. The ushers were Messrs. Robert Tempest, of Linko, Ont.; Allan Stevenson, of Pittsburg, Pa.; Harry Beverly, Taylor Burke, Richard Chichester, Charley Barrett and James Douglas, of Alexandria. The bride wore a beautiful creation of white satin brocade with yoke and bertha of point lace. The maid of honor was dressed in pink sun-pleated silk, while the bridesmaids wore gowns of white valenciennes lace and carried bouquets of sweet peas. The church was beautifully decorated by Kramer, the florist, with palms, pink carnations and pink roses. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett. The house was decorated with American, Canadian and English flags. Refreshments were served from a marque on the lawn. The presents were both numerous and beautiful. Among the handsome gifts received was a beautiful silver tea service, given by Mr. Smith's corps of engineers and the officials as a token of their esteem. Members of the Marine Band furnished the orchestra. The bride is the daughter of the late Rev. Robert S Barrett, dean of St. Luke's Cathedral, Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, the field secretary of the Florence Crittenton Mission. She is a granddaughter of the late Col. Withers Waller, of Wide Water, Stafford county. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home at Linko, Ont., where the groom is employed as a civil engineer by one of the Canadian railroads. Among the out-of-town guests were Senator and Mrs. Lamar, Senator and Mrs. Dubois, Senor De Nesti, Mrs. Robert S. Barrett, of Mexico, and Dr. Howard Kelly, of Baltimore.

New Southern Train.

The Southern Railway Co. have recently equipped their Washington and Southwestern Limited with new electrically lighted cars. This is the first all-the-year-round train in the south to be electrically lighted, and the new equipment presents a very handsome appearance. The new electrically lighted observation cars on this train are especially commodious. The Southern Railway Co. were enabled to get from the Pullman Company for this train its most improved equipment, for the reason that this train earns for the Pullman Company probably as much, if not more, money per car as any train in the United States on account of its very large patronage. The electric light apparatus for this train is what is known as the Willard System of Storage Batteries, operated by steam from the locomotive, carried in the baggage car. The electric arrangements are quite extensive, and a special electrician goes with the train as a part of the crew, as much as the conductor or engineer.

The Elks Fair.

Another large crowd enjoyed the many interesting features of last night's programme at the Elks' carnival. The interest manifested assures increasing success for each night of the bazaar. Many handsome presents were disposed of at the booths and no one appeared to be entirely lacking in luck. Among the attractions the palmists' booth is not the least fascinating. Here many who did not win a bond or other valuable article were confidently convinced that fortune was soon to come their way. Mr. R. Lee Field, holding ticket 324, won the U. S. bond and again this drawing was a feature. Tonight the Naval Gun Factory Band will attend in full uniform and give a concert. This is the band that created such a favorable impression in the recent 22d of February parade.

The Elks' will assemble at the corner of King and Henry streets tonight, and will march in procession to the hall, headed by the Naval Gun Factory Band.

Accident on Southern

A Southern Railway freight train, consisting of 12 cars, was wrecked at noon yesterday at Chatham, and near the scene where the big wreck occurred Sunday. The train was going around a curve at a high speed, when one of the front cars jumped the track, others following in quick succession. Seven cars rolled over a high embankment carrying with them part of the rails and the crossties. The track was torn up for a distance of a hundred yards. The wreck occurred on a switch and caused no serious delay to traffic. No one was injured.

Mount Vernon.

The Virginia Board of Visitors to Mt. Vernon paid their official visit to the home of Washington yesterday and were most cordially received and hospitably entertained by the regents now in session there. Gov. Swanson was unable to be present but Judge Duke and Messrs. Marshall, Page and Lewis were in attendance. Judge Duke made a happy speech complimenting the ladies on their noble work. A beautiful luncheon was served during the day.

Run Over by Cars.

A man, who refused to give his name, was found on the Southern Railway track between Burnley and Gilbert at an early hour this morning with one of his legs cut off. The unfortunate man is believed to be from Pencsylvania, and it is supposed that while riding on a train he fell and was run over. He was taken to Charlottesville where he received surgical attention.

The mayflies are a little late this year in putting in their appearance.

Washington Luna Park

Arrangements have been completed for the opening of Washington Luna Park, according to the original plans, on May 28. In spite of the tremendous detail involved in turning the forest into a home of joy and mirth, Manager George F. Gill announces that every attraction will be in smooth running order, from the salt water taffy to the chutes, from the Japanese tea gardens to the scenic river. On every hand there are amusements of every sort, appealing in their diversity to the widest range of individual taste. One of the features of the park is the great bandstand, 60 by 100 feet, backed by a shell shaped sounding board which throws the strains of music afar in every direction. It is at the head of a hippodrome seating 8,000, which is supplied with comfortable benches so situated that nothing of the musical entertainment is lost. Liberatti's famous band will open the season with a week's engagement, to be followed by the organization directed by Senor Philippini, for two weeks beginning on June 4. Every afternoon and night there will be band concerts. On Friday nights special ragtime programmes will be given, and on Sundays there will be sacred concerts. This feature of the park, as well as an open air show on an oval stage specialy constructed for big tumbling and team acts, will be free. From the chutes to the circle swing and the roller coaster, and the rockaway ride on a plunging rolling boat on dry land, there will be plenty of thrills; in the scenic river, the longest ever constructed for any park, there will be real work of art; in the attractions lining the trail there will be nothing, from end to end of the big way, objectionable. There will be no liquor on the grounds, and concessions have been refused all gambling devices or games in any way approaching the element of chance, as well as such trials of skill as throwing balls at the head of a willing Ethiopian. The aim is to keep the park from end to end on the highest plane of cleanly attractiveness. There has been a great rush of reservations for picnic days by various orders, Sunday schools and organizations, and the grounds are in heavy demand.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Sarah Davis, arrested by Officer Roberts charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Mary and Dolly Jenkins, colored, arrested by Officer Jones charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, were dismissed.

Clarence Anderson, colored, arrested by Officer Lyles charged with stealing a pistol from James Hunt, was fined $5.

Frank Beavers, arrested by Officer Jones charged with disorderly conduct at Armory Hall, forfeited $5 by failing to appear.

Four white men, arrested by Special Officer Kennedy charged with trespassing upon Southern Railway cars, were dismissed.

James Minor, colored, arrested by Officer Young charged with stealing a razor from Benjamin Hamilton, had his case continued.

Two residents, arrested by Officer Ferguson for permitting putrid matter to flow into the street, were dismissed.

The Steamer Callahan.

The new ferry steamer Callahan recently built at the yard of the Harlan & Hollingsworth Corporation at Wilmington, Del., left that place at noon yesterday and is expected to pass up the river late this evening. The steamer is an exact duplicate of the ferry steamer Woodbury, now on the route between this city and Washington, but is believed to be somewhat faster than the Woodbury Saturday morning next the Callahan will make her initial trip on the route, releaving the steamer Woodbury, which will go out of commission for some minor repair work and to have her decks and joiner work given a coat of paint. This, it is expected, will take about a week and on Sunday, May 27, both steamers will go in service on a schedule calling for a trip every half hour from this city and Washington, from 6:30 in the morning until 6.30 at night, and in addition to this schedule hourly trips will be made at night until 10 o'clock.

River Notes.

The steamer Norfolk arrived up this morning about two hours late. She did not leave Fortress Monroe until nine o'clock last night on account of the increased volume of freight.

The schooner Flying Scud, from Severn river with sand for the Old Dominion Glass Works, is unloading at W. A. Smoot & Co's wharf.

The barge Patuxent, from Philadelphia, with stove coal to W. A. Smoot & Co., has arrived. This is the first consigument made by the Reading Company since the settlement of the mining troubles in Pennsylvania.

D. A. R.

At the meeting of Mount Vernon Chapter, D. A. R. held yesterday evening at the residence of Mrs. Mary G. the following officers were elected: Mrs. T. W. Robinson, regent; Mrs. H. C. Ansley, vice regent; Mrs. Dabney Herndon, recording secretary; Mrs. R. W. Fuller, corresponding secretary Mrs. John Leadbeater, treasurer; Mrs. Mary G. Powell, historian and Mrs. Charles E. Brown, of Washington registrar.

Accident at Shepherd's.

There was another accident at Shepherd's, on the opposite side of the river, yesterday afternoon, the second this week. While placing a train on the barge a car loaded with coal was run overboard and another partly so. The accident bottled up the barge, as the car sank in the mouth of the slip, rendering it impossible to move the barge until the obstruction was removed.

Death of Mrs. Daingerfield.

The many friends and a large circle of acquaintances will be pained to learn of the death this morning of Mrs. Sarah Vowell Smith Daingerfield, wife of Mr. Edward L. Daingerfield, at her summer home, "Malvern," Fairfax county, near this city. Mrs. Daingerfield was the fourth and youngest daughter of the late Francis Lee and Sarah Gosnell Smith. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Edward L. Daingerfield; two daughters, Misses Sarah Vowell Daingerfield and Mary Helen Daingerfield, and a son, Mr. Francis Lee Daingerfield. After a long and painful illness, which she bore with patience and Christian fortitude, she has laid aside the mortal for the immortal and left the blessed memory of one whose like we shall not look upon again. Her charming personality, her noble character, her life of consecration to her religious duties, her unselfish devotion to family and home and unswerving fidelity to her friends, will wreathe her gentle memory with unfading flowers. To these were added many gifts of mind, adorned by culture, which made her presence sought and greatly valued in every brilliant throng where she took part. To do good and to distribute was likewise her chief joy, and it was indeed her

"purest heaven
To be to other souls the cup of strength,
In some great agony.

But yesterday, she was the idolized centre of a devoted family—today, as the sun illuminated the eastern skies,

She passed through glory's morning gate,
Add walked in Paradise.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, May 16.

SENATE.

The Senate today became involved in a discussion as to who should and who should not be permitted to receive free transportation from railway companies. The question came up over the Culberson substitute to the drastic amendment already adopted to the railroad bill but reconsidered in response to appeals of railway employees that the bars should be lowered sufficiently to permit them and their families to climb over. The Texan Senator's proposal to permit passes to railway officers, agents and employees and members of their immediate families, their bona fide attorneys and to ministers, indigent, destitute and homeless persons, inmates of charitable and eleemosynary institutions, to sufferers from cyclones and other natural causes, and to stock caretakers.

Feeling ran high in the Senate today. Mr. Daniel took exception to the declaration by Mr. Tillman that his efforts to permit attorneys of railroads to receive passes would let in every lawyer and a good many lobbyists.

Mr. Daniel said that he was proud of his profession and that lawyers were as honest as any other great body of men. The South Carolinian moved to lay the amendment under discussion on the table.

Mr. Daniel there with charged Tillman with ungentlemanly conduct and declared that Mr. Tillman tried to keep every other Senator off the floor.

Mr. Tillman said he had not intended to be rude. "The Senator's conduct has been rough and insulting to gentlemen who wish to speak," exclaimed Mr. Daniel.

"I apologize" said Mr. Tillman. "I'll retain the floor and also my temper which it seems the Senator from Virginia has been unable to do."

The incident closed by Mr. Tillman permitting the Virginia Senator to speak within his (Tillman's) time, his own had expired.

HOUSE.

The contest between the "peace" members who oppose any increases in the naval establishment, and those who favor a large navy as a means of insuring peace, began in earnest when the House met today and considered the provisions in the naval appropriation bill for a ten million dollar battleship.

Mr. Burton, republican, Ohio, leader of the anti-increase faction, opened the fight by moving to strike out the provision for the battleship. An extended debate for and against the motion ensued.

The Church Congress of Episcopalians met in New York yesterday to discuss live topics.

Roosevelt and the Correspondents.

The prompt denunciation of Mr. Chandler from the White House as a liar evidently caused Mr. Tillman and some other Senators surprise—a surprise which will hardly be shared by newspaper correspondents. It is no news to them that the President is capable of saying one thing and doing another, and of repudiating his utterances when he discovers that to adhere to them is inconvenient. It has long been pretty well understood in the journalistic world that the President in practice claims it as his right to disavow statements made to reporters after their reception by the public turns out to be different from what he expected. History acquaints us with other great men who exercised the same privilege.—[New York American.

It was necessary to have prolonged conferences at the White House to assist the President in deciding whether to "blow Chandler, Tillman and Bailey out of water" or to accept the hint of Chaplain Hale that "blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God," and leave things as they were. It is a great pity that there was no conference to advise the President not to answer Senator Lodge's unwise message over the telephone.—[Philadelphia Record.

Consumption Spread By Mummies.

"Egyptology vs. Health" was the title of a monograph received at the headquarters of the Tuberculosis Institute in Chicago Saturday, in which it was alleged that the great spread of tuberculosis in Europe and America in the last hundred years found its origin in the disinterment and shipment broadcast over the land of the mummies which had reposed so long in the tomb of the Pharaohs.

The monograph was written by Dr. Rafaelle Sorgnac, one of the lecturers at the Sorbonne, in Paris.

"That the disinterred mummies started the spread of the tuberculosis germs in Egypt cannot be doubted," says Dr. Sorgnac in his monograph. "There are more tuberculosis germs in the almost impalpable dust around a mummy case than in many cuspidors of effluvia.

"The bacilli from the mummies are undoubtedly of great age, and it has been shown by experiments in Paris that these aged bacilli are infinitely more deadly than those obtained from the sputum of live persons who are infected."

A good complexion is impossible with the stomach out of order. If pasty sallow people would pay more attention to their stomachs and less to the skin on their faces, they would have better complexion. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA will digest what you eat and put your stomach back right in shape to do its own work. Kodol relieves palpitation of the heart, flatulence, sour stomach, heart burn, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King St.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackets, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
